

JAY STONE SINGERS

Fresh, Anointed and still... Exclusively Gospel!!

The ministry of the Jay Stone Singers began in the small North Carolina town of Hope Mills in October of 1976. Jay Stone, the group's founder, was serving as the choir director at his home church, Mount Carmel Pentecostal Holiness, in Fayetteville, NC, when he began to feel that God was directing him to take his ministry back on the road. Having been involved with various local Southern Gospel groups for most of his adult life; Jay was no stranger to this area of ministry, however, this time would be different because the group was made up of Jay, his wife Mary, their 14 year old son Jeff, their 11 year old daughter Sharona, and a few close friends.

In June of 1984 Bobby Carter joined the group to sing tenor and play the bass guitar. Bobby and Sharona were married in November of 1987.

In January of 2010 Jay and Mary Stone decided it was time to retire from the road. They continue to support this ministry through their prayers, as well as managing the group business.

Today's group consists of Bobby and Sharona Carter and their children, Stone Carter, 19 and Emma Carter, 17. During the last 37 years of ministering through song, they have traveled in 19 states, Canada and Mexico.

This family group provides an exciting evangelistic ministry. Their desire is to witness to the lost, encourage the hurting and motivate others to grow the Kingdom of God. The close family harmonies are sure to please your ears, but the anointing and love of God will stir your soul.
